RED MENACE MAY FORCE HUNS TO ACCEPT TERMS

Cabinet Studies Final Reply From Peace Conference.

INDIGNATION AMONG HUNS GROWS, SAYS WEIMAR REPORT

Danger of Bolshevism Only Will Bring Acceptance Is Report.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Weimar, Tuesday, June 17.—Philipp Scheidemann, the head of the German cabinet, in speaking to the peace commission of the national assembly here today declared that the allied reply to the German counter proposals, without the complete text, did not permit of final judgment and that premature judgement would be a mistake.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Weimar, Tuesday, June 17.—No statement has been made by the German cabinet on the allied reply, the German counter proposals, but the Associated Press learns that sentiment in the cabinet is almost unanimously against signing the treaty, the only objection being the possibility of Bolshevism and chaos in Germany.

The cabinet met at noon and continued its session until late in the day. The peace commission began deliberating on the entente answer at 6 o'clock tonight. Official circles here were weary tonight, since a large number of the cabinet members and other dignitaries stayed up last night to read the allied terms without delay. Indignation is said to be increasing in Weimar.

PEACE GREATER CRIME THAN WAR HUN ASSERTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Tuesday, June 17.—In concluding a violent denunciation of the treatment given Germany by the allies the Vorwärts says:

"The entente's covering note describes the war as the greatest crime against humanity. It is certain there is yet another and greater crime again at humanity. That is the so-called peace."

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace mission, has telegraphed Berlin strongly protesting against the so-called incident on the departure of the German delegates from Versailles.

NEWSPAPER STRIKE KEEPS TERMS FROM MUNICH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Tuesday, June 17.—Up till 1 o'clock this afternoon the people of Greater Berlin were still without actual knowledge of the contents of the entente reply to the German proposals, as the text of the covering note was all that was available up to that hour. Only those in touch with official quarters were in possession of the summary of the answer to Germany. No papers were published because of a strike and the Wolff bureau's report was the only transcript of the reply at the disposal of the last officials of the foreign office left this morning for Weimar. An official telephone message received here just before noon from that city indicated the government was disappointed with the reply.

BERLIN PAPER LOOKS FOR MORE FIGHTING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Copenhagen, June 18.—The amended peace terms have aroused a sentiment of growing impatience in Germany and armed intervention by the allies is regarded as inevitable, according to the Berlin correspondent of the Politika. It is reported that Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the head of the peace delegation, and Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the armistice committee, have reconciled their differences. The German agent says that if the report is true the reconciliation will have an important bearing on the acceptance or non-acceptance of the terms.

The Socialists newspaper, Vorwärts, of Berlin, says it expects a reopening of hostilities as soon as the seven days given Germany to make reply have expired.

The Fremdenblatt of Hamburg, says it learns that the allied terms have caused great excitement in eastern Germany where the population is ready to reopen the fight.

PRINTED TEXT OF REPLY SAME AS SUMMARY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Tuesday, June 17.—The memorandum handed to the German plenipotentiary Monday was printed yesterday here today, but added little to the general understanding of the treaty. The memorandum deals largely more precisely with alterations and amendments than did the official summary cabled Monday to the United States.

It is apparent from the memorandum that the "red letter treaty," commented to the Germans Monday is the document of supreme interest to Germany and the world. It will be necessary to await publication of the amended treaty to obtain any exact or even adequate notion of the many alterations which are indicated in the memorandum on such form as "we were altered after this paragraph of the treaty."

Those familiar with the treaty maintain that the German authorities can, on the basis of amended instrument, make out a strong argument for any future claim on compensation obtained through negotiations.

SERVICE BUREAU HAS MANY JOBS

Demand For Help Exceeds Supply Records at Labor Bureau Shows—Asks Cooperation.

The community war service employment bureau has been permanently established and W. L. Miller, superintendent from Columbus was in Newark yesterday completing arrangements. He approved of the appointments recently made by the committee in charge and George Pieri, was named secretary and C. Hanks was made his assistant. Both men were sergeants, having recently been discharged following overseas service.

A budget of $500 was allowed for the remainder of the fiscal year, or until September 1st, to the bureau to secure other quarters. The bureau will be maintained in the south east corner of the courthouse, but attractive signs will be placed on all corners of the square and guide signs leading to the bureau will be placed.

Files and books have been purchased and the bureau announces today that it has more positions than men to fill them. There is a demand for brick layers, and a large amount of labor is requested at Heath, formerly Central City where the Ohio Cities Gas company is doing large constructive work. The company offers 35 cents an hour for labor.

A spirit of co-operation is asked between the industries of the city and the people, asking if they are in need of help that their requests be placed with the bureau. All soldiers are especially invited to use the bureau to secure any information desired by them.

FRANCE TO PLACE DUTY ON IMPORTED GOODS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, Tuesday, June 17.—The official journal, in its issue tomorrow will print two decrees affecting importations to France. The first will remove the few exceptions being luxuries, various articles forming the subject matter of interalleled agreements and textile manufacture, the principle producing centers of which are in devastated regions and consequently require special protection.

The second decree will place extra customs duties on imports, these being calculated to accomplish the object of affording protection to home industries. These duties, however, will not be imposed upon food stuffs or articles indispensable to manufacturers.

SIXTEEN MEMBERS OF ONE FRENCH FAMILY KILLED BY GERMANS IN WAR

Paris, June 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Thirteen sons killed on the field of battle, three discharged with grave injuries, one wounded four different times; the father and one daughter summarily shot by the Germans for going to Lille to celebrate the centennial anniversary of a relative, and another daughter killed by a German shell at Dunkirk, is the record of the family of M. Vanhee, a French farmer of Reminghe, near Ypres.

M. Vanhee had 36 children—22 sons and 14 daughters—all of whom were living when the war broke out. One of his sons was sent to Pope Pius X. He returned to France to fight and was wounded in each of four different engagements. One of the sons lost both legs, another returned from the front blind and deaf, and another underwent the trepanning operation.

ALLIED ARMIES READY TO MOVE ON SHORT NOTICE

Foch Orders Troops To Be Ready If Treaty Is Rejected.

YANKEE DIVISIONS ALL SET FOR INVASION OF GERMANY

U. S. Commander Makes Inspection of Forces On Tuesday.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Coblenz, Tuesday, June 17.—The concentration of troops preparatory to advancing farther into Germany if the Germans will begin to withdraw through out all the occupied areas. Orders to this effect were received today from Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies who issued similar orders to all the allied forces on German soil. Lieut Gen. Hunter Liggett, commander of American forces in the Coblenz area said today after an inspection trip of the bridge head, outposts and the headquarters of divisions along the Rhine, that the American forces were all ready to move ahead at a moment's notice. Leaves to soldiers permitting them to visit recreation points within the American zone have all been suspended until it is known whether the Germans will accept or reject the peace conditions.

If orders come to go ahead, the Americans will advance in combat formation prepared for any emergency, with the artillery and supply trains following close upon the heels of the infantry.

BORDER TOWNS FEAR REPRISALS BY VILLA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

El Paso, June 18.—Every border city, town and hamlet along the Rio Grande in this district is being garrisoned by detachments of American troops by General Erwin to prevent the possibility of a Villa raid across the border in retaliation for the expedition against Villa's forces in Mexico.

Company G, 19th infantry, was ordered to Ysleta, Texas, yesterday, Company H of the same command to Fabens opposite Guadalupe, Chihuahua, and Company I, to Fort Hancock, Tex. In addition a machine gun platoon was ordered to the border. Small numbers of the troops garrisoned in the border towns west of El Paso have also been reinforced until the entire border front is under military guard.

Manager Charles Hollander, with the superintendents of maintenance and superintendent of construction, were on the job all day yesterday and late into the night. It being nearly midnight before the manager left the office. The man can only look after trouble at the office, which he could not be met under.

Manager Hollander is receiving four visits daily.

Manager Hollander stated today that he had just been notified that an increase of 25 per cent on all poles and cross arms would go into effect tomorrow. He stated that he was willing to have the citizens appoint a committee to examine the finances of the company and its books would prove that under the present rate it is impossible to meet the demands of the men for an increase.

Manager Hollander stated today that the men were doing the best they could under the circumstances and would continue to do so, but that the patrons would have to be patient until the present trouble could be adjusted. He stated that his subscribers were very considerate as nearly all were acquainted with conditions and that in spite of the large number of phones out of commission there has been but little complaint.

A number of business phones went out yesterday and this will work a hardship but there is no remedy for the trouble as one can be secured to repair them. All electrical workers and other linemen of the city are members of the union and would not be allowed to assist in the work of putting the phones in condition for service.

The situation will continue to grow more acute the longer the men are out and will cause that much more delay in adjusting the trouble. It was pointed out by Manager Hollander that there are about 1,200,000 are paying the increased rate.

Manager Hollander stated that the relations between the company and the employees had always been pleasant and the majority of the men had been with the company for a number of years.

Manager Hollander stated that the officials of the city would recognize the seriousness of the situation and grant the company the relief which it is asking.

Nature and the Indian

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his women to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug up roots for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses.

Dr. Pierce uses the same root-called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription" skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective.

Women who are worn out, who suffer from pain at regular or irregular intervals, who are nervous or dizzy at times, should take that reliable, temperance, herbal tonic which a doctor in active practice prescribed many years ago. Now sold by druggists, in tablets and liquid, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Waseon, Ohio—"As a tonic Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is excellent. I was feeling very miserable, was extremely nervous and completely run-down when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription.' The first bottle gave me great relief and by the time I had taken three bottles I was feeling fine. I gained in weight and was strong and healthy once more. I am glad to recommend 'Favorite Prescription' for I feel that it will do for others what it has done for me." Mrs. J. F. Biglow, 111 E. Walnut St.

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

Cocoanut Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonsful will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under a physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter." Miss FLO KELLY, 476 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

CROWDS ENJOY MUSIC GIVEN BY W. S. S. WORKERS CARRIED THROUGH THE CITY ON TRUCKS

Two large trucks decorated with American flags and War Savings stamp posters carried a party of musicians through the central part of the city and into the Fifth ward last night advertising W. S. S. (the world's best investment) and boosting the Women's War Savings stamp drive.

One of the trucks carried a piano and an orchestra with several vocalists who entertained the crowds that assembled at each stop. After a short musical program a short talk on War Savings stamps was given, followed by solicitation of pledges. The solicitors met with success at every stop. An unusually large crowd gathered at the public square at the First Methodist church corner and at the Auditorium where also enjoyed and were productive of good results.

The trucks used last night were furnished by Phil Vogelmeier and the Stewart Bros. & Alward company, the piano by C. L. Yockey, the West Main street music dealer. The American Motor Truck company is today equipping a two-ton truck with seats for use of the musicians tonight.

The same musicians, under the direction of Miss Anna Rieger, will make a trip through the north end of the city (Sixth ward) this evening, visiting North Fourth, Elmwood avenue and Hudson avenue and will appear during the evening at the Auditorium also. The music chosen is to follow the music tomorrow night. The W. S. S. talk last night was given by Attorney John Martin and C. H. Spencer.

Today.
Elinor Fair, who with Albert Ray, the star, is being featured in "Married in Haste," finds her greatest relaxation in reading detective stories and working out puzzles that appear in daily newspapers. Miss Fair, who is about fifteen years of age, declares that she has a detective mind. Miss Fair, who is a very pretty girl, is pleasing greatly the audiences at the Gem theatre.

GRAND.

Today.
Today marks the final showing of one of the very best pictures ever in resort in the slums where Billy imagines this city. "Beating the Odds," with he is carrying on his "losing fight"— the money; his father's abnormal tendency for drink. His physicians assure him otherwise, but partly to prove them wrong, partly in sheer spirit of belligerence, he proceeds to test himself. His friends, unable to make their dismal境况 worse, try to help him. When Billy is imposed to go to the mountains of Vermont for a rest and to try to cure himself, Poppy has him located and plots with "Spider" Doyle, an ex-prize fighter to save Billy from himself. She comes to the unsavory village entertainers are to be seen each week at this theatre. These features will be screened every Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Hyland is seen for the two days beginning today in "Miss Adventure," the story being as follows:

A mutiny on the schooner Fremont, on its way to San Francisco, results in the mortal injury of Basil Cavanaugh, a wealthy widower, who is travelling with his four-year-old daughter, Jane. Before dying he entrusts the child to the care of a 14-year-old cabin boy, Dickie Hamilton, with instruction to deliver her and a letter to Edward J. Case at the Cass National Bank, San Francisco, and gain a liberal reward. A few days later the schooner meets a small fishing boat owned by Bog Nickel, a smuggler, and exchanges of contraband goods are made.

Dickie, who has secreted Jane in a keel, watches his little charge lowered into the smaller boat. Later, as he

His career leads him through various passages to the proud position of manager of a large steel corporation and when he has reached the pinnacle of success he gets a rude awakening because a former pal in the underworld reveals his past. Ethel Lynn and Jay Belasco appear in a very pleasing comedy, "All for Money."

Tomorrow.
Tomorrow afternoon and evening there will be shown at the Grand, "A Burglar for a Night," with J. Warren Kerrigan in the leading role, supported by a splendid company of carefully selected people. Mr. Kerrigan is one of the most versatile of actors, but in apparently accidentally with a slimming party. "Spider" Doyle, who happens to be near, Billy apparently insults Poppy and Billy, furious, tries to interfere. From that point the work of the conspirators is easy. This feature remains over Thursday.

"Shark Monroe."

There is little doubt that the popular verdict on William S. Hart's splendid new photoplay, "Shark Monroe," which is to be displayed at the Auditorium theatre next Friday and Saturday will decide it is one of the finest pictures in which he has as yet been seen. In this production Mr. Hart discards the chaps of the frontiersman and is seen as a typical "shiner" of a sealing schooner on the Alaskan coast. Monroe is a "gavage man" whose represents his craft. Bog the smuggler hears a sobbing voice from the keg, and rips off the hoops to discover Jane and the letter, which Dickie has tied around her neck.

"Day Dreams."

Madge Kennedy revels in comedy situations as she does in her new Goldwyn Picture, "Day Dreams," by Cosmo Hamilton, which comes to the Alhambra theatre, beginning Friday. It depicts the life of a country girl, Primrose, whose imagination and wild dreams have surrounded her with fairytale folk—princes, white knights and all. She is later disillusioned by a scheming suitor, who has grown weary of having his proposals of marriage rejected with the reply that she is awaiting the white knight to claim her as his princess and sail with her to his castle across the sea.

"Birds and Flowers."

The Uriah P. Miller Pictures in nature's colors that has been selected by Manager Penberg of the Alhambra theatre as a special attraction for Friday and Saturday is perhaps one of the best, from the standpoint of pure beauty, that Prizma has shown under its new process of reproducing nature's colors for the screen.

The subject is "Birds and Flowers," and by giving a survey of the dahila farm of Miss Jessie Boston at San Mateo, Calif., practically the whole range of color is placed on the screen for the audience. Miss Boston's dahila is the largest in the world owned and operated by a woman, and the various birds seen in the woods, the feeding station and the close-up studies of the used types of dahlias give this subject high information value in addition to its appeal to lovers of the beautiful.

DEPRECIATED SAVINGS.

The advance cost of living has had a most serious effect on every person who has had thrifit enough to save any money. The smallest savings bank depositor, and the $50.00 Liberty bond holder, are affected as well as the wealthy capitalist.

The interest on your $50.00 bond, or on a small savings account, buys only from a half to two thirds as much as it would have purchased five years ago. That amounts to a scaling down of the value of all savings money.

People who have never manifested thrifit say "We should worry." But the majority of the American people are thrifit. They feel deeply an economic change that reduces the value of the savings they have made, at the cost of so much effort and self denial.

The American people in 1896 turned down the bimetallic standard money, on the ground that free coinage of silver would make all savings accumulated on a gold basis only half as valuable as they were before. It was held that the free use of silver would cause inflation and make prices go up. A great many people felt that that was essentially repudiation of debts.

OUR WARS COMPARED.

(Rochester Post Express.) Our city's history of three wars—the Civil War, the war with Spain, and the war of the world—Colonel Wallace Gilbert, spoke interestingly at a recent reception given by the University Club to its members returned from service.

Besides the three wars in which he fought, Colonel Gilbert has youthful memories of the war with Mexico and of how the news, which come slowly by courier in those days, was eagerly canvassed by thoughtful men who say its bearing on the looming question which was to end in a fratricidal war.

Never before or since, says Colonel Gilbert, was the volunteering so instant and spontaneous as during the Civil War. The best and noblest in the north and south alike sprang to arms without accord. Later as it became necessary to renew the weakened regiments, fewer men of high ideals were left and the draft was employed. But it worked poorly. The number of deserters was scandalous. Bounty jumpers made a business to enlist as substitutes and run away to other states to enlist again, and Colonel Gilbert is doubtful if on the whole the draft did not impair rather than increase the morale and fighting efficiency of our forces.

The depression in the closing years of the war was deep and profound.

The north was in gloom.

Never, it has always been my belief and contention that it should be the province of a Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, or like institution, to go into the fundamental bringing about just such a situation and the first organization of the kind that awakens to the CAUSE of our dearth of housing facilities is going to stand out in conclusion.

In this war, on the contrary, conception has worked magnificently well. It has been commonly impossible to discover any difference between the patriotism and enthusiasm of the volunteers and the draftees who had been with the colors for a month. They were indistinguishable in their ardent Americanism and as fighters in the field and Colonel Gilbert voices what seems to be the general conviction of citizens whose opinion is of worth, that our recruitment, fair and universal, should at least however be relied on for the national defense.

Colonel Gilbert believes that our participation in this war has done more creditable good to us as a people by uniting and鼓舞ing nothing else could do a splendid and lasting national pride and more importance to our institutions than ever before. The speaker left with hopes the time soon that Masterbrook's vision of the future would find echo in his heart. It will not be long, says the eloquent English. "Before we see the difference increase, and the degrees diverge between the nations which have acquired all these dead and all this glory, and those which are deprived of them, and we shall perceive with amazement that the two nations which have lost the most are those which have kept their riches and their men."

The senate is casting its time-honored vote for the peace treaty "weak." What we want them to do is to look in the Dry Amendment. Columbia Rec.

One of the most prominent causes of poverty is the tendency of great masses of people to settle in congested cities and and live in unwholesome conditions. Many of these people really like the crowded and unhealthy slums better than the country, which they consider lonely. But until this congestion is broken up, there always will be poverty.

If immigration is ever admitted freely again, there should be more of an effort to divert the incoming tide from the great cities, into the country and smaller towns, where people can live in more healthful and American way. Also there should be a persistent effort to persuade people to move out of these unwholesome surroundings into the better conditions of suburban and rural life.

If Henry Cabot Lodge can adorn the walls of the senate with Taft's hide, it will cover enough of the wall to cut down decorating expense at least.

AN ATTEMPT AT USURPATION.

(Springfield Republican.) In view of Senator Lodge's emphatic public statement that taking the treaty as it stands, "there will be difficulty in securing the league covenant and treaty," Senator Knox's latest resolution is superfluous even from his own point of view and that of his sympathizers. If the foes of the covenant can tear it out of the treaty and still leave the treaty intact, as Mr. Lodge declares, let them undertake the operation and assume the responsibility for it. If the country wants it done, the senatorial executioners will win public approval.

Why delay the work of the peace conference by now making it redraft the treaty so as to eliminate all the dovetailing between the covenant and the rest of the peace terms? If, as the Knox resolution affirms, "the great paramount, if not the sole duty of the peace conference is quickly to bring all the belligerents to a full and complete peace," it is nothing but sabotage to demand that the conference shall reconsider the entire subject of the league of nations in its relation to the treaty. Nothing else than its reconsideration in an exhaustive style can be contemplated, for the league of nations was the subject of one of the fourteen points which, according to the terms of the armistice, were to be the basis of the peace settlement. If "quickly" peace should now be made, may an afflicted world be saved from the burden of the Knox resolution.

There was considerable to be said last winter for the first Knox resolution advising the postponement of the league of nations until some indefinite date after peace terms had been imposed upon the central powers. The chief objection to that course was that such a postponement would mean the formation of no league at all, and this view is now sustained by the flat refusal of France to accede to the appeal of Messrs. Lloyd George and Wilson to guarantee to Germany admission to the league at an early date, if not immediately. If the formation of the league had been postponed, we should have had a long time to wait for France to join later on any league that contemplated the admission of Germany, but that would have suited Senator Knox because the longer you wait for such a thing as a league of nations the more likely you are to end your days contemplating dreamily a pious aspiration.

Senator Knox's resolution closes with a glittering statement of "the declared policy of our government" in case the peace of Europe should again be threatened. Europe should know that any declaration of the sort by the senate alone amounts simply to an impertinence. The senate alone cannot formulate our foreign policy. Any European country would be bungled were it to accept as of the least value a senate declaration attempting to bind future executives, or especially the American people, as to their action in case of another European war, whatever might be its origin.

Did You Know?

That Spa was frequented as a watering-place as early as the 14th century?
Spa is situated in Belgium in a valley about twenty-seven miles from Liege. Its mineral springs, seven in number, are all chalybeate and contain minute quantities of iron so combined with alkaline salts and carbonic acid gas as to be both palatable and digestible.

spurious prominence before the manufacturing and industrial world.

In the first place, what encouragement is given the home-builder? The answer is: just the same encouragement that is given the petty offender before the bar of justice: the inebriate, the interloper, the prostitute. Such a person is brought before the proper tribunal and penalized $5, $10, $25, or amounts fitting the offense, the idea being to discourage further repetition of the misdemeanor or crime.

The individual who employs labor for construction work, who patronizes his local merchants in the purchasing of building materials, and whose finished product undoubtedly houses labor, is hailed before the authorities and penalized, in our community, some $16 per $1000 of good citizenship. Nor is this all. He is penalized that $16, and perhaps more, not once only, but for each and every year the improvements remain standing.

And passing strange it seems that people seem not to comprehend that the laws employed to discourage crime and misdemeanor will have the same result in discouraging legitimate and laudable enterprise.

This form of penalizing is conducive to but one end—namely: the vacant lot enterprise. Three-fifths and more of the city of Newark consists of vacant lots. What good to a community is a vacant lot?

In conclusion, let me assure you that there is a mighty easy method by which to get all the housing necessary for such a community as ours. Furthermore, by the same means that you can encourage home-building you are going to relieve the factory, the merchant and industry in general by relief from unjust taxation.

It is said that there are three kinds of people in this world—those that say "I will," those that say "I won't," and those that say "I can't." Think it over.

Sincerely yours,

Ernest T. Johnson.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT.

By S. W. STRAUSS, President American Society for Thrift.

Too much emphasis can not be placed on the value of keeping a strict account of all personal expenditures.

No one is too rich or too poor to come within the range of such needs. It has a stabilizing effect upon the individual.

living, education, progress, and the fulfillment of human destiny. The foundation of thrift is system. It can not be practiced intermittently.

If you are endeavoring to save a little money, to get ahead, to make progress, and you have not adopted the rule of keeping an accurate daily record of your expenses, you will find that, by the adoption of such a plan, your success will be made doubly easy and you will be amazed at the difference it will make in the amount of money you can save. A few pennies or a few dollars wasted here and there do not seem to amount to much at the time they are spent. But when the record of these unwarranted extravagances goes down in cold figures, and we can also look back over a period of time and trace the black trail of our thriftlessness, the matter is presented to us in a much more graphic and impressive manner.

Every business concern keeps an accounting of all monies received and spent. To do otherwise would be to invite failure, for it would mean the introduction of carelessness, slip-shod methods.

If such rigid care is considered necessary to the success of a business organization, there is even more need of efficiency and system in the administration of one's personal affairs.

Every business concern is surely a machine which should function with mathematical precision. It has neither head nor brain. To it a dollar saved or earned is only a dollar and nothing more.

But with the individual, though it means not only the saving of money but it means the development of character, clear morals, wholesome habits, and a general improvement in all the relations of life.

ARE FLEMING AND WALLOON

People of Belgium of Both Races, the Flemings Being Slightly in the Majority.

The kingdom of Belgium dates from 1830, when the seven Catholic provinces revolted from the disastrous union with the kingdom of the Netherlands. Dr. Edwin A. Grosvenor writes in a communication to the National Geographical Society. A conference of the great powers in 1831 determined the boundaries between the two countries. Though obliged by circumstances to recognize Belgian independence, the conference did not sympathize with the authors of the revolution. In consequence the boundary line was traced to the disadvantage of the new nation, it is alleged. The Dutch were assigned peoples east of the Meuse, who were strongly pro-Belgian, and were granted both sides of the Scheldt, thus cutting off approach to the sea by the great port of Antwerp.

Belgium is made up of Flemings and Walloons, with the former in the majority. In 1910, of the 7,751,000 Belgians, there were 3,221,000 who spoke only Flemish, 2,833,000 who spoke French (spoken by Walloons) and 871,000 who spoke both languages. The Flemish provinces are bilingual. Germany tried to divide the Flemings and the Walloons during the great war, but the descendants of the warriors who fought against Caesar refused to be divided. The ancient Belgae occupied all Gaul north of the Seine and west of the Rhine, but today it covers only 11,873 square miles.

ARE NOT REALLY LOCUSTS

Unwelcome Visitors Expected This Year Periodical Cicadas, According to Wisconsin Entomologist.

Be scientific—call the "17-year locust" by its right name, the periodical cicada, and no one will worry about it, says H. F. Wilson, entomologist at the Wisconsin experiment station. Cicadas are common insects, but locusts are reminders of the scourge of locusts in biblical days and the grasshoppers, or true locusts, of the early days in the southwest.

Even the orchard-man's fear of the effect of this particular cicada is not very well founded, judging from the information entomologists have about the insect, for other members of the tribe appear each year and injure the shade and orchard trees in exactly the same way.

The injury is the result of the cicada's laying eggs in the twigs of trees. From the eggs the larvae of the insect hatch. The twig enlarges at that point, growth is interrupted and sooner or later the twig rots and breaks off. The only treatment is to prune off the parts affected. No preventive methods are considered necessary by either horticulturists or entomologists at the station.

Charts of the different broods of the so-called locusts have been prepared by entomologists of the United States department of agriculture, says Mr. Wilson, and they show that the brood expected this year is No. 10. Seventeen years ago it was reported to Wisconsin only in Dane county. The last brood appeared in 1915 and was quite generally scattered over the state.

Made in Germany.
Dr. Arthur Davis, who used to be the Kaiser's dentist, is authority for the statement that the crown prince is the most egotistical person he ever met. As an instance of his conceit the dentist recounts an occurrence in one of the painful dugouts at the front where captured champagne had been flowing freely for some time.

"Your Highness," finally asked a young officer, "who is the greatest of all German generals?"

"I am," promptly retorted the crown prince.

"True, of course," said the brother officer, "but how could you really prove it?"

"I don't have to," retorted the crown prince. "I merely say it, and it is so!"—Minneapolis Tribune.

Convincing.

J. A. Strahan, the eminent professor of jurisprudence, tells in his reminiscences several good law stories.

One of the best concerns a certain chancery judge who (writes Mr. Strahan) was so notorious for the brevity of his notes of evidence that, in a case which appeared to make an appeal probable, the parties agreed to have a shorthand note of it.

Later, the court of appeal, puzzled by his decision against the plaintiff whose uncontradicted evidence seemed convincing, sent for the judge's note hoping it would enlighten them.

It did. It consisted of a vigorous drawing of an oily-faced, oil-looking person. Above was written The Plain Off., and below it And a — Har-Pearson's Weekly.

His Consideration.

"Now, gentle," with a placid air, said the proprietor of the Right Place store in Petoskey, addressing the prominent and influential leaven that infested his emporium, "I have placed a batch of comfortable pine bunks around on the shade side of the store, where you can sit and split and whistle and curse the government and argue about nothing from morning till night and not be disturbed by customers trying to edge around you to buy something or talk over a little private business with me without having your snorts stuck into it!"—Kalamazoo City Star.

The motor trip was to be across the Belgian battlefield to Brussels by way of the famous ruins of Ypres.

CANADIANS ATTACK LONDON POLICE STATION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

London, June 18.—Fifteen among the Canadian soldiers in England because of continued postponement of homeward sailings, culminated last night in an attack by 400 Canadians on the Epsom police station. Several policemen were wounded, one seriously. The purpose of the attack was to release a Canadian soldier who had been arrested.

To avoid further trouble the police released another Canadian in whom the mob was interested. During the last few days there has been trouble in the Canadian camps at Whitley where the soldiers burned huts and did other damage, according to reports.

There is much sympathy here for the Canadians who repeatedly have been given dates for homeward sailings, only to be told that further postponement is necessary owing to strikes of dock workers at Liverpool and other ports, or to a lack of transports.

The British have been confined to the Canadians. There also have been protests by Australians and New Zealanders. Some Scotch units composed of veterans recently held a demonstration against being sent back to France.

The piano recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Mabel G. Ashton, Tuesday evening, filled the parlors of the Baptist church with an appreciative audience. Two pianos were installed in the larger lecture room which had been appropriately decorated and thrown open for the occasion. The program included too many numbers for analysis in this column though many of the little ones as well as the more advanced pupils gave evidence of unusual gifts and careful training. With the exception of the ensemble work all the pieces were played without notes and the young performers acquitted themselves with credit. Those whose names appeared on the program were: Edith Conrad, Bertha Welsh, Hazel Dunlap, Dorothy Hobert, Flora Louise MacEwan, Wilma Jones, Alfred Owen, Nettie Frances Guckert, Ethel Smith, Josephine Jamison, Dorothy Hood, Sara Broughton, Helen Kihler, Marian Pierson, Annabel Hammond, John Owen, Carrie May Johnson, Ruth Hobert, Frances Fulton, Robert Hood, Wendell Barnes, Neil Crooks, Cora Frances Shirk, Netta Frances Seigle, Jane Hood, Ruth Broughton, Ann Price, Jenness Carpenter, Ruth Wheatcroft, Myra Wright, Mayme Zetta Jackson, Herbert Owen, Mary Martin, Juanita Jones, Katharine Hobert, Velma, Winifred Johnson, Gertrude Ackley, Elisabeth Chambers and Kathryn Rose.

The Fourth of July committees called upon for a report of progress by Chairman W. H. Kussmaul, assembled on the large porch of the Robinson residence. Every committee reported activity and the prospect of a big celebration.

The King's Daughters announce that their annual picnic will be held next Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hubert Robinson in South Main street.

The funeral of Mrs. Ann Hiblant, whose death occurred at her home in Union Station, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence.

She was well known in Granville as the mother of Mrs. Charles Richards and Mrs. John Showman, and is survived by several sons who are residents of Union township.

Managers Austin & Graves of the opera house have just installed additional decorative fans, so that the big audience tonight to see "Patsy" Armbuckle, and the great Tom Mix feature, "Treat Em Rough," will be sure of splendid ventilation.

Also the unusual picture showing the world's greatest tenor, Caruso, in "My Cousin," which appears Saturday evening will accommodate the crowd with a maximum of comfort. Caruso is never seen outside New York though his voice is heard on countless records.

Although I was late, and the new brazier I found the laundry had saved for me the tenderest part of the chicken.

What was that, said the old brazier,

Some of the gravy.
